FISHERMEN STAMPEDE IN ALASKA

Unprecedented Run of Herring at Dutch Harbor in Aleutians Lures With Prospect of Wealth

LONELY SHELTER NOW TENTED CITY

Enthusiasts Predict That $1,000,000 Worth of Fish Will Be Taken—Extraordinary Hauls Reported

SEWARD, Sept. 7.—A stampede worthy of the days of gold was reported here today—but not for gold. An unprecedented run of herring at Dutch Harbor in the Aleutian Islands was reported today. The little Unalaska Island village, said men aboard the Redondo of the Alaska Steamship Co., which arrived here today with 800 barrels of fish.

Almost overnight Dutch Harbor has been transformed from an unfrequented shelter for ships to a crowded city of tents, men on the steamship declared. An old dance hall was turned into an improvised bunkhouse to quarter those who would have otherwise been shelterless.

$1,000,000 HAUL

Reports of fishermen making hundreds of dollars daily started the rush. More than 15,000 barrels were reported to have been packed already, while an equal amount of live fish were held in nets until they could be barreled. Enthusiasts predicted that, perhaps more than 50,000 barrels, valued at more than $1,000,000, would have been caught by the end of the month. The Alaska Steamship Co. has sent vessels on two special trips with supplies for the stampeding fishermen.

CHILD INJURED BY MOTORCYCLE

JEAN HELSP, OF 3246 DOUGLAS STREET, TAKEN TO ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL.

Sustains Broken Thigh—Cecil Graham, of Ardesier Road, Was Driving the Machine

Little Jean Helsp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Helsp, of 3246 Douglas Street, miraculously escaped death last night, when a motorcycle ridden by Cecil Graham, of Ardesier Road, struck the girl down.

Jean is now in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from a broken thigh. The fracture is high up on the thigh, but fortunately the girl received no internal injuries. Dr. Moore is attending to the case.

According to Chief of Police Allen Rankin, the motorcycle was driven by Cecil Graham, who was riding his motorcycle north along Douglas Street at 6 o'clock last night, when he struck the girl and seriously injured her.

Snowstorm in Alberta Delays Air Mail Plane

EDMONTON, Sept. 7.—Major A. E. Godfrey and G. Graham, who are making a transcanada flight, will remain here tonight with their big seaplane and will not resume their journey to the Pacific Coast till Saturday morning. The aviators had intended to hop off at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Lake Wabamun, forty miles west of Edmonton, where they intended to remain till Saturday morning before continuing. A snowstorm has postponed the flight until Saturday morning.

Early tomorrow, if weather conditions are favorable, the plane will hop off from Saskatchewan River for Lake Wabamun, where a stop of an hour will be made to load up with gasoline, when the flight to Vancouver will be resumed. Major Godfrey explained that it would be impossible to take off from the river here with the full load of gasoline and the mail.

DISSATISFIED MIGRANTS ARE SHIPPED BACK

Unwilling to Harvest for Four Dollars a Day, or Unsited to the Work, Department States

TRAIN TAKES 328 FROM WINNIPEG

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—The following statement was issued today by the Department of Immigration and Colonization regarding the return to the Old Country of a number of British harvesters:

"The 328 British harvesters who left Winnipeg on Wednesday night last to return to the Old Country are not returning because of lack of employment but because they organized opposition to accept employment in that country and some of them were unfitted for harvest work."

"Their return was brought about in accordance with an understanding between the Canadian Government and the British Government, reached in connection with the transfer to Canada recently of several thousand Britishers for harvest work."

NOT UNDER RESTRAINT

"The division Commissioner of Immigration at Winnipeg refuses a statement made by a labor member of the British Parliament to the effect that these men were kept under restraint. When tickets were being arranged for return on the evening they left Winnipeg, it was necessary to keep the public from mixing with the returning men. Out of this necessary precaution has grown the story of the men being placed under guard. The Division Commissioner states that at no time since the harvesters have been in Canada have they been under restraint and that even their return to the British Isles is at their own solicitation."

Lord Birkenhead May Take Post in Big Cable Merger

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The New York Times today publishes the following special cable from London:

"That Lord Birkenhead, Secretary for India, will not stay in politics after the general election is accepted as a fact, and it is now reported the financial post for which he will leave office will be the chairmanship of the $50,000,000 company formed by merging the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company with the Imperial Communications Corporation."

SPEECHES FILL DAY AT GENEVA

Dissertations on War, Peace, Disarmament and Kellogg Pact Heard by Assembly

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—Plain speaking on war and peace, on the meaning of the Kellogg pact and on the need for disarmament characterized the day's session of the Assembly of the League of Nations. Hermann Mueller, Socialist Chancellor of Germany; Nicholas Politis, a brilliant legal light of Greece; and Minichiro Adachi, Japanese Ambassador to France, led the delegate of fifty nations into storm of applause as they eloquently pictured dire results that might follow acts of international injustice.

Premier Mackenzie King of Canada, achieved a personal success. The Assembly seemed particularly impressed by the declaration that the 3,000 miles of undefended Canadian-American frontier symbolizes renunciation of war just as the Kellogg pact does.

SNOW IN ALBERTA

EDMONTON, Sept. 7.—An all-night rain in the Edmonton district turned into a snow flurry about 7:30 this morning, and a mixture of snow and rain is still falling. Any continuation will mean a serious delay in harvesting, as the bulk of the wheat is out, and threshing under way in many areas. A heavier snowfall is reported from Lethbridge.

BRITISH ARE SEEKING KEY TO EXPANSION

Party of Federation of British Industries Is Due Here Sunday Week, After Visiting Eastern Canada

PACIFIC SECTION COMPLETES TOUR

Are Advised to Build Plants in Canada to Cater to Dominion Standards of Supply

ANNOUNCEMENT is made of a revision of plans of the delegation of business men who are on tour in Canada under the auspices of the Federation of British Industries.

The date announced for arrival here several weeks ago was September 15, but it has now been set forward to September 16 for arrival in Victoria.

It is understood that only a small part of the group undertook the transcanadian journey, the majority being interested chiefly in Eastern Canadian industry and therefore did not continue through to the coast.

The itinerary drawn up in London, England, provided for those who desired to turn back after the Ottawa visit and to judge from information just received the majority have taken that course after going to Toronto, Hamilton and London, Ont.

FOUR DAYS ON COAST

The party is due in Vancouver on September 13, with four days set aside for the Pacific Coast. Unless the time is further extended, the schedule calls for a return journey to be commenced on September 17.

This organization was addressed in Toronto and urged to establish branch factories in Canada. The speaker, on behalf of the most important of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who was Mr. A. B. Cooper, declared that if British manufacturers wished to compete in the Canadian market, owing to the variation in the standards of commodities here and abroad, they must make their articles in the Dominion.

"In our desire to do everything possible to have you understand us and our conditions," Mr. Cooper said, "it is our hope that when your experience has shown that in certain lines of industry basic established conditions are such that it is difficult or impossible for you to compete successfully in our markets, you will not give up easily, but that you will be inspired to establish in this country branch factories."

ESSENTIALS OF SUCCESS

"In making this suggestion I know from experience that under certain conditions it is the only possible method of procedure. To succeed in industries it is necessary for you to produce to conform with Canadian standards. I have strong grounds for belief that were British companies to establish branch factories in Canada they could be assured heavy co-operation from all sources, which would leave success dependent only upon the quality of the product itself."

SAANICH HOME IS RANSACKED

WATCHES AND JEWELRY DISAPPEAR FROM HOME OF MR. A. W. COCKS, BRENTWOOD

Chief of Police Allen Rankin Makes Arrest—Recovers Goods Four Hours Later

The home of Mr. A. W. Cocks, Brentwood Bay, was broken into yesterday afternoon and jewelry and watches were missing. Chief of Police Allen Rankin, of Saanich, arrested Raymond Stewart, of Keating, at 10:30 o'clock last night. He will appear in the Saanich police court this morning on a charge of theft.

Mr. Cocks, who is a teacher at the Brentwood College, left his home for the city at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He returned at 6 o'clock to find that his house had been broken into and ransacked. After ascertaining what articles had been taken, he reported the incident to Chief Rankin.

The chief investigated the case, and four hours after receiving the report arrested Raymond Stewart. He also recovered missing goods, comprising a wrist watch, one man's silver watch and three ladies' gold rings.

PURSE THIEF ATTACKS GIRL ON WAY HOME

Episode Marks Fourth Hold-Up in City During Past Ten Days—Assault Interrupted

POLICE SEEK DESCRIPTION

Making the fourth hold-up in the city within the past ten days, a young woman was knocked down by a youth near the wall of the St. Ann's Convent on Humboldt Street last night, it was reported to city police at 10:30 o'clock by Miss M. Henderson, of 809 Humboldt Street.

The young girl, whose name is not known by police, was struck down by a youth near the wall of the St. Ann's Convent on Humboldt Street last night, it was reported to city police at 10:30 o'clock by Miss M. Henderson, of 809 Humboldt Street.

Detective Galloway, who was detailed to the case of the hold-up of the street car conductor Wednesday night, was sent to interview Miss Henderson, and ascertain all details in connection with this incident.

Unfortunately Miss Henderson did not get the name of the girl who was attacked. Police hope to get a description of the youth is as soon as possible.

It is believed that the youth is the same who held up Mr. Cartwright, the street car conductor. Tom Gibson, who was parked on Dallas Road in his car last week, and two men in Stadacona Park, also last week.

Labor Problems In Britain Are Near Solution

VANCOUVER, Sept. 7.—Addressing the Canadian Club here today, Right Hon. Hugh Pattison McMillan, Lord Advocate for Scotland in the Cabinet of J. Ramsay MacDonald, declared that representatives of trade unionism and employers in Great Britain were getting together, and that solution of the labor problems were being worked out successfully.

"I think one can say that throughout the Old Country, in spite of our difficulties, that the labor problems are met in that spirit. I am perfectly certain they will be surmounted," he said.

Compulsory Pilotage Strongly Objected To

VANCOUVER, Sept. 7.—Impetuous of compulsory pilotage would place Vancouver at a distinct disadvantage in competing with ports on Puget Sound, where there is no such system in force, declared F. H. Clendenning, president and principal operator of the Empire Shipping Company, one of the largest shipping agencies in British Columbia, in his evidence before the pilotage commission.

The witness claimed that it was of no avail to compare Vancouver with Montreal, and Old Country ports, as the competition with which it has to deal is Seattle, Everett, Tacoma, and other ports of the Sound.

The commission adjourned until Friday afternoon to resume hearings Monday in Victoria. From there it will go to Nanaimo on Wednesday, returning to Vancouver Thursday morning.

PARALYSIS AT KIMBERLEY

KIMBERLEY, Sept. 7.—Owing to two cases of infantile paralysis here, boys in two families being very sick, the Kimberley schools were summarily closed this morning.

Mr. W. H. Malkin to Run for Mayor in Greater Vancouver

AIR CLEARED ON PROBLEM

Mr. W. H. Hammond Says He Does Not Intend to Challenge Marketing Act Regarding Potatoes

ADVISES CHINESE TO COMPLY READILY

Contradicting reports that were in circulation that he was preparing to combat the Marketing Act, and was organizing the ranchers to challenge the act, Mr. W. H. Hammond, of Ashcroft, last night informed a Colonist representative that he had had a talk with Hon. W. Atkinson, the Minister of Agriculture, and he had found him very reasonable. He was impressed with Mr. Atkinson's way of approaching the matter, and was not anticipating trouble with him, or with the Government of the day.

It had been reported, he said, that he had taken the stand of the country for the purpose of organizing the ranchers in a fight against the Marketing Act. This, he said, was his habit each year, he had gone through parts of the Cariboo and other sections of the country looking over the crops, and thus being in a position to know what the supply would probably be this season.

He said, however, that he had not tried to organize the growers against the act.

On the contrary, Mr. Hammond said that following the handing down of the judgment by Mr. Justice Murphy in the Supreme Court with respect to the Marketing Act, he had advised the Chinese not to go further in contesting the act.

It will be recalled that Mr. Hammond was very much in the public eye a year ago over this issue of the Marketing Act. That has passed, he said, and he was not now anticipating any further action. He held the opinion, however, that the Government should test the validity of the Marketing Act. The act was supposed to be for the benefit of the people of the whole of the province and the whole of the people should bear the cost of the test of it.

HARD CONTESTS BAD FOR WOMEN

DR. LAMB, MANAGER OF CANADIAN OLYMPIC TEAM, MAKES STATEMENT

Women Mentally and Physically Unfit for Such Efforts—Dire Results Follow

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—Supporting the stand taken at the recent conference in Amsterdam, Dr. A. S. Lamb, director of physical education at McGill University, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, and manager of the Canadian Olympic team, reiterated in a newspaper interview here that women are unfit for athletic competition as keen as that seen in the Olympic games.

Dr. Lamb is backed by practically every member of the Canadian Olympic committee, which is the more remarkable in view of the fact that the Canadian girls won the best aggregate, outpointing even the strong United States squad.

"Physically and mentally women are unsuited for such efforts," Dr. Lamb said. "No matter what their physical condition may be, they are bound to compete with too much at stake. Dire results often follow."

"Whether these injuries are permanent or not we do not know frequently. He is a great supporter of the Western movement of grain."

Mayor Taylor Announces Early Reorganization of Vancouver Police Force

Police Commission to Meet in Few Days When Decision Must Be Made as to Steps to Be Taken—Superannuation of All Men of Age Limit Said to Be Certain

Must Decide at Meeting What Action Is to Be Taken With Regard to Chief

VANCOUVER, Sept. 7.—"There will be a reorganization of the police force before the election," declared Mayor Louis D. Taylor this afternoon. "The police commission is likely to meet the first of the week, probably not later than Tuesday," he said, "when a decision will have to be arrived at regarding reorganization. We will have to decide at that meeting what steps we are going to take with regard to the chief. The question of superannuation will undoubtedly be discussed," he declared. "As far as I know, the commissioners are in favor of superannuating almost all men of the age limit, which will give the younger men on the force an opportunity of being promoted," the Mayor said. The chief of police, who had been suspended during the Lennie inquiry, was reinstated, on the understanding that this did not bind the police commission to retain his services in event of reorganization. This reinstatement has been severely condemned by various bodies of ratepayers, and it has become evident that some action is necessary, in view of the widespread and acute dissatisfaction of the public with the state of affairs disclosed at the inquiry.

British Miners Making Good in Harvest Fields

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—The great majority of British harvesters have made good on the farms of Western Canada. Of the 6,000 who came over, less than five per cent have asked to be returned, officials of the Dominion Employment Bureau and the two railways stated today after a careful survey of the situation. The experiment of bringing the Britishers to the harvest fields of Canada was declared to be a success. There is a shortage of labor at some points where wages are from four to six dollars a day.

C.M.S. Secretary Dies

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng., Sept. 7.—Eugene Stock, aged ninety-two, secretary of the Church Missionary Society for more than forty years, and equally well known for his religious writings, died tonight as the result of being knocked down by a motor bus three weeks ago.

MAYOR GREGORY SEES ELEVATOR

ACTING-MAYOR P. R. BROWN CONDUCTS GUEST OVER FIRST PLANT

Elevator Will Be Ready to Receive Grain Within Two or Three Weeks' Time

Acting Mayor Percy R. Brown and Industrial Commissioner John Baxter conducted Mayor J. A. Gregory of North Battleford, Sask., over the Panama Pacific Grain Terminal, limited, elevator at Ogden Point today.

Mayor Gregory was very much pleased with the elevator, Acting Mayor Brown stated. The plant was one of the most modern and up-to-date elevators he had ever seen, and was superior in many respects to those at Port William and other Eastern points.

The workmanship was excellent, Mayor Gregory said. It was conveniently and economically situated for the handling of grain. The work itself was a compliment to the engineers and contractor, particularly in view of the fact that it had been built at a price below the average cost of a 1,000,000-bushel elevator.

Acting Mayor Brown and his guest were informed at the elevator that the plant would be ready to receive grain within the next two weeks, three weeks at the very most. The opinion of Mayor Gregory with regard to Victoria's first elevator is a valuable one, for the visiting mayor is an authority on grain elevators, his business dealings making him conversant with every detail of the grain export trade.

Mayor Gregory is president of the Saskatchewan Union of Municipalities and also president of the Western Mayors' Association for 1928. As president of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries his business in this connection, together with grain and coal exportation matters, brings him to this coast frequently. He is a great supporter of the Western movement of grain.

Harvester Trouble Said to Be Due to Communist Effort

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—Immigration and Dominion police in Winnipeg are investigating a report that an organized attempt on the part of Communists to discredit the movement of harvesters from Great Britain exists. Police believe the originator of the movement is a Communist from Motherwell, Scotland. A meeting of the harvesters who were in sympathy with the object in view took place, it is reported, in the Winnipeg Communist Hall last Tuesday.

Its meetings are held every Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock in the junior ballroom of the Olympic Hotel. Its officers are: Pactorum, Colonel A. H. Hankins; factorum regent, Mr. F. W. C.P.R. AND VICTORIA

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company never stands still: it is always advancing. That the transportation organization is a protagonist of up-to-dateness is indicated by the announcement made here by Mr. E. W. Beatty, its president, that two more new and large ferry steamers will be constructed for the B.C. Coast Steamship Service. These will be for the triangular route—Victoria-Vancouver-Seattle—and that they should be considered necessary is an indication of how traffic is expanding and of how the C.P.R. is determined to cater to that traffic. In effect Mr. Beatty's announcement means that passenger and freight traffic on the triangular run, both Summer and Winter, is to have even more advantageous facilities than at present, and these for ferry services are now as good as are to be found in any other part of the globe.

The company is also carrying out improvements at the present time to the Empress Hotel which will make that hostelry more popular. It has projected Christmas festivities for Victoria which it is anticipated will attract much Winter tourist travel to this city and make such travel annual by repeated inducements proclaimed by advertising. In fact, there is a likelihood, according to present plans, that Victoria as a tourist resort, both Summer and Winter, will be advertised as never before by a transportation company which knows better how to advertise than any organization on the continent. Mr. Beatty's announcement regarding the future of the Empress Hotel indicates that a new wing is projected. The faith of the C.P.R. in the possibilities of Victoria was never stronger. That is the only conclusion that can be reached by the latest improvements announced during the visit of Mr. Beatty.

SAANICH'S DEVELOPMENT

There are probably a number of reasons why the Saanich tax sale just held should have been so successful in comparison with others of recent years. One reason is that the municipality has been able to reduce taxes. That is the greatest of incentives to the ownership of land, namely, when the burden of taxation is not too heavy. Another reason is that settlement in Saanich has been proceeding at a more rapid rate during the last few years. The peninsula, one of the most desirable tracts of land throughout the Dominion, offers residential and farming potentialities that are being recognized more fully all the time. The day will come, there is no doubt, when the area from Victoria to Sidney will have a population of 250,000.

In the process of development in Saanich a considerable fillip took place within recent months in the determination of the people there to improve transportation facilities. The move made in this direction, fostered by Reeve Crouch and his council, has had an undoubted effect on the desire of a greater number of people to reside in the municipality. The present municipal administration has shown vision which is already being justified. After experiences of recent years in Victoria, in Saanich and, indeed, in most municipalities in British Columbia, it is a matter of congratulation that upwards of fifty per cent of reverted lots put up for sale should be purchased in Saanich. That municipality has entered upon a new era of development that augurs well for the future.

THE AGE OF NOISE

In Paris new rules have been instituted to compel motorists who drive in the city between 1 and 5 a.m. to negotiate crossings by slowing down and not by hooting. There will be convictions and penalties for violations of these rules. The Manchester Guardian, however, points out that a few crashes begot of silent driving at crossroads will discredit the remedy against noise. What it advocates is the reduction and the standardization of what sounds there must be at night. It might have gone further and laid the same emphasis on the need for less noise in daylight traffic.

The Guardian says that the loud exhaust is an obvious mark for strict penalization. Similarly it believes that the "more hideously sounding of motor horns" should be curbed. Here is its comment: "For night purposes, if not for all, a low sweet trumpet note would serve as well as the yelping, cat-calls, screeches, and the rest that murder sleep and make the day horrible." The fact of the matter is that authorities have, as yet, only touched the fringe of the motor traffic problem. That is clearly indicated by the rising death toll, and equally emphasized by the fact that, so far, nothing at all worth while has been done to safeguard health through the elimination, as far as possible, of noise.

The motor industry has advanced rapidly in some of its stages. It has made progress hardly at all in the production of noiseless engines. The traffic grows noisier all the time both in the cities and on the country highways. Here is a comment of The Yorkshire Post: "When the worker returns to his or her home noise does not cease. Motorcycles with gun-like exhausts, cars that roar or roar or hum or rattle as they pass, hooters, bells and sirens, the massed shouting of sport-watching enthusiasts, street breakers with drills, and tramway servants with instruments for ironing out the tram lines, dogs that yap and bark, cats that wall, homing topers who sing or quarrel—only a Walt Whitman could adequately catalogue the various assaults upon the tympana of suburban humanity." The London Daily Mail says: "The nerve-racking noise of the modern city is filling the hospitals with nervous and mental cases." And M. Gémil-Perrin, chief medical officer of the Seine Asylums Board, says: "There is no question about the deleterious effect of street noises upon our nerves. The sense of hearing is suddenly fatigued by the innumerable sounds which do not even cease to affect it during sleep."

HARVESTING MINERS

There has been a good deal of criticism, some largely unjustified, on the bringing out of British miners to undertake harvesting work in this country. Apparently the majority of these miners, the vast majority, are satisfied with the experiment they have made. What will happen when the harvest is gathered has yet to develop. There need be no pangs, however, as to their constituting a burden on the country and, indeed such pangs would indicate a pessimism regarding the Dominion's power to absorb population that is strangely at variance with the efforts in so many quarters to secure British immigrants. In speaking of the British miners, Mr. Forke, the Minister of Immigration, is responsible for the following: "It is pretty well understood that the British Government will take steps to see that no miner is left here in distress after the harvest is over."

Beyond the knowledge that those miners who are unable to fit into our economic life will be cared for by the British Government there should also be some assurance as to what the Dominion Government will do to assist in providing a future for the new immigrants. It was Ottawa that invited the British miners to the harvest fields and Ottawa's responsibility should not end when the harvest is gathered. Among the newcomers there are thousands of potential settlers of the right sort. Unquestionably there are some who would be failures under any conditions, some who have leaned so heavily on the dole in Britain that they have lost the incentive to work. The experiment of bringing harvesters from the Old Land, however, can be amply justified in its ultimate results, not because of what the British Government has done or may do to insure that the men will not become a burden to the Dominion, but in what the Dominion Government and the people of Canada will do in assisting the newcomers to find their places in the economic life of the country.

Senator Borah of the United States says that, because of liquor control, demoralization reigns in Quebec. L'Evenement of that province has made a pregnant retort to the criticism. It says: "Between French Canada and Senator Borah lies Chicago. Whatever may be our weaknesses, there is reason to think that our cities are sanctuaries beside the American Babylon. With a population equal to one-quarter of the whole population of Canada, Chicago has ten times more crime than our country. This comparison established, is there any need to respond further to Senator Borah? We would advise him to mix a little wine with his water, for the excessive sobriety on which he vaunts himself suggests the bigot."

"Publicity and Profit" was the title of an address recently delivered by Sir Alfred Robbins to the London Commercial Club, in which he emphasized the value of newspaper advertising. He says that from a long experience he believes there is no means of reaching the general public which in any way equals, for permanent effect—and therefore for profit—that of advertising in the newspapers. The stopping of advertisements, he says, has begun the process of decay in many businesses, because, if the public miss an advertisement to which they are accustomed, they soon forget the commodity which had been advertised.

QUERY

Is it a little thing to spoil a life,
 That men accept it thus, and casually—
 To twist the spun gold of a thousand dreams
 Into a nightmare's freckled symmetry?
 Is it a little thing, this groping for
 A star, to fall and pennitantly cast
 Aside the ladder, swearing that the trial
 Will, having lacked fulfillment, be the last?
 Is it a little thing to sing these songs
 With lips grown cold, and hands that falter so The script is ragged, and the thought gone by Before the ordered words are set in row?
 Is it a little thing, to hear the sound
 Of voices, knowing they are not; to fear
 A meeting in the garden in the dusk
 Where pain walks in the shadows, palely near?
 —Eleanor Aletta Chaffee, in The New York Herald Tribune.

Note and Comment

By R. A. D.

The Toronto Star, a comparatively new Canadian newspaper, accuses The Toronto Globe and The Toronto Mail and Empire, both very old Canadian newspapers, of being Little Canadians. The comparatively new Canadian newspaper even charges that the very old Canadian newspapers are hostile to Canada as a nation and are conducting a campaign whose object is the reversion of Canada to the colonial or Crown Colony status. The Star, like all brilliant luminaries, celestial and otherwise, has one or two satellites (one of them in Victoria), which faithfully reflect the light of the parent body. Consequently, when The Star expresses an opinion, its faithful satellites all express the same opinion. The whole constellation therefore declares that The Toronto Globe and The Toronto Mail and Empire are Little Canadians and that they are laboring diligently at the job of "reverting" Canada to the old colonial or Crown Colony status.

Many years ago a young lad who had just arrived in Canada and was anxious to acquire some knowledge of the history of the country and the working of its institutions as a preliminary step to becoming a good and loyal Canadian, consulted an authority on the best means of gaining the necessary equipment. This authority happened to be a veteran Conservative politician; and his advice was to subscribe for The Toronto Globe and read it diligently every day. The great Liberal Journal was at that time conducting a vigorous ultra Canadian campaign against certain colonial and Crown Colony institutions. The Globe was then considered a distinctively Canadian institution, and it did not cease to agitate for the reform of what it believed to be dangerous political abuses until its object had been achieved. Largely as a result of the labors of The Globe, Canada was granted the right of self-government. That right has since been made absolute.

Such is the record of the newspaper which is charged by The Toronto Star with turning back the pages of history and conspiring with some nebulous authority for the purpose of depriving Canada of her status as a self-governing independent nation within the British Empire. The Globe was a Liberal newspaper waging a valiant battle for the principles of true Liberalism many years before The Toronto Star and its feeble satellites had been heard of or dreamt about. But the old Liberalism of the veteran newspaper is obnoxious to the new Liberalism of the journalistic infants. The Globe is not an unquestioning and unreasoning support of the policies of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King. The Globe has shaken off the shackles of political partisanship and asked some pertinent questions. It seeks information about the political tenets of the Prime Minister and his neo-Canadian supporters. It is as faithful and stalwart in its Canadianism as it was in the days when George Brown was vigorously battling the abuses of colonialism and conducting a campaign, which was destined to prove successful, for reforms.

The old Canadians have no objection to the new Canadians having a new flag if that "reform" will be productive of benefit to Canada. The Old Canadians, in fact, will loyally accept any change if by that means a spirit of greater loyalty to their country may be inculcated in the hearts and minds of the people. But if the ultimate destiny of Canada from a national point of view is to be speedily achieved, something more is necessary than the adoption of a new flag. There must be a change in the spirit of the present leaders of the people. The progress of Canada will never be as great as it should be all the circumstances and conditions considered as long as Canadian leaders are of the timid milk-and-water kind who tremble at the thought of adopting a policy of Canada for Canadians and everything in Canada for the benefit of the Canadian people lost such an aggressive policy should provoke retaliation.

If Canada cannot without fear of giving offence adopt whatever fiscal or economic policy that is clearly in the best interests of her own people, then she certainly has not achieved her national independence, for there is not a nation in the world, new or old, great or small, that will admit such a limitation of its sovereignty. One of the chief industries of British Columbia is suffering today, and business in general must be seriously affected, because the leaders of the Canadian people have not the courage to adopt and proclaim a policy that will reserve, wholly or in part, the home market for native products. The situation in this province today may be the situation in other parts of Canada before many days. And yet the newspapers and political leaders who deplore such things and demand reforms are assailed and called Little Canadians. In the meantime the Big Canadians are muttering frayed and tattered economic shibboleths and proclaiming the superiority of their loyalty to their country.

MR. OSCAR BASS IS APPOINTED

Succeeds Mr. J. W. Dixie as Departmental Solicitor in Attorney-General's Department

Mr. Oscar Bass, well-known resident of Victoria, who has had experience in the newspaper line, in the civil service of the province, and later as a practicing lawyer, has been appointed to the office of departmental solicitor in the Attorney-General's Department. For some time Mr. Bass has practiced in his profession in this city as a member of the firm of Bass & Bullock-Webster.

After following newspaper work in Montreal for some years as a member of The Gazette staff, Mr. Bass came to Victoria, where he has in turns been identified with the editorial staffs of The Colonist and The Times. His advent to Victoria was early in 1926.

In 1926 he was appointed official stenographer at New Westminster by Hon. D. M. Eberts, the Attorney-General of that day. Two years later Mr. Eberts appointed Mr. Bass to the post of chief clerk of the Attorney-General's Department in succession to Mr. R. E. Brett, who had resigned in order to go into business for himself.

Mr. Bass received the appointment of secretary of the Law Society, and law reporter here under Hon. C. E. Pooley, who was then chairman of the Benchers, and who was father of Hon. R. H. Pooley, the present Attorney-General of the province.

In September, 1925, he went into practice in partnership with another former civil servant, Mr. H. W. Bullock-Webster. This partnership has continued till the present time, the appointment of Mr. Bass to his present post, the partnership will be dissolved, and Mr. Bullock-Webster will carry on the practice.

Mr. Bass succeeds Mr. J. W. Dixie, who resigned to become registrar of the Supreme Court at New Westminster.

PRICE OF SCHOOL BOOKS

Sir,—The times are well expressed letter of Mrs. Annie C. Bowden exposing the outrageous difference in the prices of standard books sold by the same firms in Vancouver and Victoria calls for the strong approval of all parents having children of school age. There are two large department stores with branches in both Victoria and Vancouver. Their advertisements appear in The Colonist of September 2 and The Vancouver Province of the same date. By way of endorsing Mrs. Bowden's statement, permit me to quote the exact prices given in these advertisements for identically the same books. I select eight only from a long list, but the difference is as great or greater in every item.

	Vancouver	Victoria
Canadian Readers 1	35	50
Canadian Reader 2	40	60
History of England	53	70
Golden Steps	20	35
Canadian School Geography	80	100
Canadian School Atlas	80	100
Dominion High School Arithmetic	69	100
McArthur's History of Canada	83	120

Everybody knows the cost of living in Victoria is higher than in any other large city on the Coast, but why people should be forced to submit to such extortion as exemplified in the prices quoted, is something the Provincial Education Department should investigate. A great many Up-Island people send to Vancouver, via Nanaimo, for their household supplies. I understand, instead of patronizing Victoria business houses. Can they be blamed for so doing when relative prices are considered?

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The Curtiss airplane interests have announced a project by which it is hoped to place aviation at the service of the public more generally than ever before.

A ten million dollar company is to be formed to inaugurate the first cross-country air taxi service, to establish properly equipped flying schools throughout the country and to form a sales and service organization for the products of the Curtiss Airplane & Motor Company.

The company will be able to start operations almost immediately. "Have you seen May?" "May who?" "Mayonaise."

British Association Told of Secret Order of Bella Coola Indians—Highly Complex Religious Society

PROF. McILWRAITH COMPLETES STUDY

GLASGOW, Scotland, Sept. 7.—Abolition of examinations for high school boys and girls, except as tests for entrance to universities or professions was urged before the educational branch of the British Association for the Advancement of Science today by Dr. Cyril Norwood, headmaster of Harrow.

"Education is no longer in the region of the three R's. It is now the territory of another trilogy—the hands, the eyes and the voice. It is the business of the primary school to teach the child to observe, making him do things and to instruct him in speech and song. Then the child will have more capacity for true happiness and true intelligence."

AMONG B.C. INDIANS

The highly complex religious secret societies among certain Indian tribes of the Canadian Northwest were described before another section by Professor T. F. McIlwraith, of the University of Toronto. He has just completed a survey of these customs for the Canadian Government and is the only white man who has been initiated into the secret order of the Bella Coola tribe of British Columbia.

"In the Summer these Indians gather food for the Winter and live in ordinary family groups," he said. "In the Winter, however, this basis of society is broken up for three months by the secret organization. The initiated live in one large house and the uninitiated in another. The latter believe that if they approach the initiated their spirits will come out of the backs of their necks and they will die. Several hundred supernatural beings constitute the religious background for these societies.

"Masks to represent gods, whistles among the mountains to indicate the approach of deities and similar stage effects are used by the initiated to awe the others. One of the extraordinary gods enchants his initiates, causing them to run amuck and bite people."

The Rhyming Optimist

SEASONS

Dim is the day as the gray clouds fly endlessly over the bending sky; cruel and keen is the north wind's blast, driving the dull clouds fleetly past. Cheerless and bleak though the scene may be, barren the marsh land and dark the sea, yet in the treasure the spirit knows Summer may reign with her song and rose. Never the hint of a lifted wing, not a gleam or a glimmer of blossoming, still in its fastness the glad soul thrills, sensing the April daffodils; sensing the joy of a rain-sweet day, fields wind-swept where the daisies play; nothing to lend, in this mullen sky, reason for hope, yet the heart is high. Strange, how the seasons can vary so. Earth with its tempests when bleak winds blow, but on the road where the glad soul fares, lulling of robins and flower-sweet airs!

Prehistoric Man Could Not Talk Specialist Says

GLASGOW, Scotland, Sept. 7.—Tongues of pre-historic men could not form words, and the initial communication between members of the human race was mostly by gestures, said Sir Richard Paret, specialist on the development of inventions, to the British Association for the Advancement of Science yesterday.

Sir Richard, who combines science research with his work as a barrister and a member of parliament, said that primitive man sang, grunted or roared to express emotion.

To illustrate his ideas of the evolution of speech, the speaker used a pipe, an organ reed and a cork plunger. With this apparatus he was able to produce numerous sounds of human quality, including some recognizable words.

Sir Richard said that in addition to his animal-like vocal productions, primitive man used pantomime of face and limbs to convey his ideas to others. As he pantomimed with his hands, his tongue naturally followed these motions.

Then our ancestors developed crafts, and his hands became too

DISARMAMENT PAYS SAYS PREMIER KING

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—The Briand-Kellogg pact for renunciation of war was praised by Premier Mackenzie King of Canada in an address before the assembly of the League of Nations here today. Premier King pointed out that Canada was particularly concerned because of association with both France and the United States and because of the undeclared frontier between the Dominion and the United States, which he termed a symbol of the policy of renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy.

In achieving racial concord and international peace with its great neighbour, Canada, for more than a century, had fulfilled two great fundamental principles of the League of Nations today, Premier King declared. Public moneys in Canada were saved and utilized for the purpose of productive industry.

INCREASE IN TRAVEL HERE IS REVEALED

Mr. Frank Giolma Tells Realtors Publicity Bureau's Efforts Prevent Reduction in Tourist Traffic

SPEAKER SUBMITS THREE PROPOSALS

"Victoria is now recognized as the natural holiday playground of the Pacific Northwest. Having built up the summer business and winter business, the Publicity Bureau is now doing everything possible to connect these two seasons so that Victoria may have a constant flow of tourists from the beginning of the year to the end," Mr. Frank Giolma, of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, said yesterday, in addressing the Real Estate Board luncheon in Spencer's private dining-room.

Mr. Giolma said it might not be known that scientists who have made a study of climatic conditions throughout the world and their effect on the human race agree that the ideal climate for the white race is in Tunbridge Wells, Kent, England, and that the nearest approach to these climatic conditions is found elsewhere is here in the city of Victoria, where they are practically the same.

The speaker declared that stores and business generally report a good season this year, with the buying capacity of the tourists fair, but in larger numbers than last year.

HAVE DONE WELL

"Our information is that all new hotels and up-to-date apartment blocks both in Victoria and elsewhere on the Island have done well, some having enjoyed capacity business throughout the summer. With the joining up of the Summer and Winter seasons there is no question but that this form of investment will prove even more lucrative, and I do not think the day is far distant when the whole of the waterfront and adjoining residential districts will carry revenue-producing buildings of this nature," Mr. Giolma asserted.

"As in the past, so in the present season, many of the tourists have asked for information about our winter climate, stating that their intentions are to make their homes here either this year or in the near future."

Mr. Giolma said long-distance travel, that from the United States, especially, had been poor this year, owing to unsettled conditions and the fact that this was the presidential election year in the United States. Anticipating this, the Publicity Bureau concentrated on inducing greater "local" travel from Washington, British Columbia and other nearby points.

Not been for this policy of the bureau, the 1928 tourist business for Victoria and Island points would not have been as good as last year.

TRAVEL INCREASE
Illustrating the increase in travel to Vancouver Island via the ferry routes, Mr. Giolma said that the Anacortes and Bellingham ferries carried 2,578 passengers in 1927, while last month the boats carried 3,098 cars and 9,439 passengers.

Up to date over 7,000 cars have been carried on the steamer Olympic from Port Angeles as against 5,137 for the 1927 season.

Since June 16 the Victoria-Edmonds ferry has carried 8,835 cars. Inward, there were 2,247 foreign cars and 521 Canadian. Outwards there were 2,412 foreign cars and 655 Canadian.

An increase of at least 15 per cent in the Vancouver-Nanaimo route was indicated, he said.

"It is estimated that the total passengers who traveled to Victoria in 1927 was 385,000, and while final figures are not yet available, it is indicated that travel this year will show an increase of 10 to 12 per cent," Mr. Giolma said, amid applause.

THREE PROPOSALS
The speaker made three suggestions which he believed would prove beneficial to the city's tourist business, namely, the inception of a band or a stringed orchestra to provide music daily in the mornings and afternoons, the cleaning up of the city beaches, and an increase in the amount of modern furnished residential apartments. He said the beaches were in a disgusting state and this unsightly condition should be remedied.

The speaker referred to the splendid service being rendered by the directors of the Publicity Bureau, "men who gave their time and brains in promoting the tourist industry. They are the men who have planned ahead and have prevented a serious reduction in the tourist business here this season."

Mr. David Leeming, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, spoke of the enormous benefit to Victoria and Vancouver Island of the tourist industry. He said the more the city of Victoria spends in advertising the city, the more it will receive in return and the greater the business here will be.

"The tourist traffic has brought from $2,500,000 to $6,000,000 into our city this season. Every dollar we spend in this publicity work we will get back, not tenfold but a thousandfold," he stated.

Major H. Culbert Holmes, president of the Real Estate Board, remarked that the present head and the immediate past president of the Publicity Bureau were members of the Real Estate Board, also three directors of the bureau.

Health and Diet Advice
By DR. FRANK MCCOY

PROCRUSTATION PREVENTS RELAXATION

It is important that you build a determination in your mind to accomplish what you have chosen for your goal in life. Many people are failures in their own business because they lay about coming and going to work on time, and yet if they were working for someone else, they would not be troubled in this way.

Opera singers are seldom sick because they have to set aside their personal feelings and put into motion every power of their will to meet their engagement with the public. A strength of character to meet your engagements and obligations is essential to any honest success.

The determination of accomplishment is an attitude of mind necessary for feeling well. Many people fall into the habit of feeling tired or sick. Man is naturally a lazy animal, and one of his worst diseases is chronic laziness. We must organize our minds and our bodies so that they shall be in top notch condition when they are needed. What would you expect of an army if the general only drilled his soldiers when he felt like it?

And what catastrophes would happen on a railroad if the engineers who ran their trains whenever they didn't choose to smoke or play checkers.

Let us substitute thoughts of health, energy, vitality and industry for those of vacillation, discouragement and idleness. Not only must we have a determination to work, and responsibility for doing things, but we must also have our periods of relaxation if we wish to keep a well balanced mind.

I have a number of friends who have reached the high pinnacles of success and almost invariably they tell me that they have made more money and enjoy life more

BAND CONCERTS CLAIMED ASSET

REALTORS SEEK CITY SQUARE WHERE ENTERTAINMENTS MAY BE HELD

Mr. Frank Giolma's Proposal Leads to Resolution—Mr. E. H. Wilson Greeted on His Return

Formation of a special committee to co-operate with committees of the Chamber of Commerce and the Publicity Bureau in an endeavor to have the City Council set aside and improve some portion of its land in the centre of the city to be utilized as a square where band concerts could be held, was decided upon by the Real Estate Board of Victoria, at its luncheon yesterday in Spencer's private dining-room.

The value of band concerts in the city during the summer tourist season was emphasized by Mr. Frank Giolma, of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, who suggested that steps be taken towards having a band play twice daily in Summer as a magnet to entertain visitors while here and to encourage them to stay in Victoria for a longer period than perhaps they had originally intended.

"Such entertainments in other cities by bands had proved most successful and had been worth thousands of dollars to them," he said.

Mr. Fred Landsberg said he was confident that the money to pay for a band to give concerts could be voluntarily raised by a canvass of the merchants, who recognized the value of providing attractions for the visitors here. Other realtors heartily endorsed the proposal to secure a square in the city for band concerts.

Mr. E. H. Wilson, land agent of the Victoria Bay Company, welcomed back from a trip to the Old Country. He said London appeared to be most prosperous, and no one need have any fears at the progress that was being made in England. He was glad to be back here, and said he would infinitely prefer to reside in Victoria than in any part of England.

A motion, sponsored by Mr. Landsberg, that a committee be formed to take steps to have a square in the city set aside and improved, was unanimously adopted by the City Hall which is unfavorable to the city's progress, was carried.

James Martineau loved to quote a saying attributed to William the Conqueror when his sons wanted him to retire from the throne that he was not going to retire until he went to bed. "It is a good maxim," he said, "for old men, so long as the work is in them, to keep on the job, and see if they cannot find some function fitted to their diminished powers. With that reserve let them be ready at any time to deliver over the standard to the grasp of the firmer and younger hand."

This does not mean that you should fritter away a life away in a vain pursuit of pleasures, but means that you can work harder at your occupation, and concentrate on your work with more enjoyment when you know that you are not chained to a prison rock pile.

JAIL INMATES REVEL IN ROW

JOHN H. DICKSON CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING KWONG KEE, CHINESE, IN CELL

Unusual Case Receives Police Court Attention—Magistrate to Give Decision This Morning

Relations between inmates of the city jail apparently are not always of the most cordial nature. That fact was significantly revealed in the city police court yesterday, when two of these inmates, Kwong Kee, a Chinese, and John Hercules Dickson, appeared as a result of an affray which occurred in the cells on Thursday.

Dickson was arraigned on a charge of assaulting Kwong Kee, occasioning him grievous bodily harm. He pleaded not guilty, and conducted his own defence.

Chief of Police John Fry testified that he had been called into the cells by the desk sergeant, and had been told by Kwong Kee that the accused, Dickson, had knocked one of his teeth out. The accused had said that the Chinese worried him. The Chief denied that he had told Kwong Kee to molest the accused.

STRUCK IN MOUTH

Kwong Kee, the complainant, was the second prosecution witness. He said Dickson had grabbed him by the neck and, striking him in the mouth, knocked one of his teeth out and loosened a second tooth. Witness contradicted the suggestion that he had followed the accused every place he went around the building.

Dickson—"Didn't I threaten to knock your jaw off if you followed me around?"

Dickson—"No. You made a lot of noise. You were singing every night."

Dickson—"What was I singing?"

Witness—"I don't know, but I didn't like it. It kept me from sleeping."

Dickson—"Then you didn't like my singing?"

No. Kwong Kee responded.

DENIES ASSAULT
Taking the stand in his own defence, Dickson emphatically denied ever striking his accuser.

"I was put in the bull pen last Sunday, but I don't know why. It seems everyone is worrying me. Two people, a white prisoner and this Chinese have persistently annoyed me."

Dickson was brought to the jail for examination for insanity, it was explained to the court.

The accused said: "They cannot break my spirit. I have padded my own canoe always. I believe these two prisoners have been told to follow me around."

Dickson claimed he was telling of his experiences in travels around the world when the Chinese, Kwong Kee, disturbed him. "I told him to get out of my cell," he said, "and I finally had to take him by the collar and throw him out."

Protesting strongly that he didn't hit the Chinese, Dickson said, "If I had hit him, not only one of his teeth, but all his teeth would have been knocked out, for I have a powerful left-hand blow."

"CHINESE BIT ME"

"The Chinese then bit me, and the marks are here on my finger. His tooth might have been torn out when he bit me. Or he may have been carrying the tooth around in his pocket for some weeks," concluded Dickson.

Magistrate George Jay said he would take the case under consideration, and give his decision this morning. Dickson asked for bail, but this was refused him.

Patrick Foley, who was arrested by Constable Arthur Bishop, was arraigned before Magistrate Jay on a charge of assaulting Florence Foley, his wife, on September 5. The accused pleaded not guilty.

After hearing the evidence in the case, His Honor dismissed the charge against Foley.

Mrs. M. C. Moore, W. E. Bennett and Jai Singh were each fined $5 for failing to bring their motor cars to a full stop upon entering arterial highways. W. Parkinson paid the court a $5 fine for driving his automobile over a safety zone reserved for pedestrians.

UNITED CHURCH COUNCIL HEARS BOARD REPORTS

Finances Are Reviewed and Organization of Consolidated Pension Fund Fully Described

LIBERAL GIVING BY CHURCH MEMBERS

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—Unmistakable opposition in the United Church of Canada to increase in the number of members paid officials was manifested at the meeting of the General Council of the United Church of Canada here today. J. H. Gundy, maintenance and extension committee moved that Rev. Dr. Charles Endicott, who has been in the service of the church in Northern Saskatchewan as the Superintendent of Missions, be made the Western Secretary of the Maintenance and Extension Board. Rev. D. L. Linds, of Calgary, opposed the motion, and considerable discussion followed. Commissioners interviewed following adjournment, expressed the opinion that the appointment would undoubtedly be made during the present meeting of the council and that another appointment would be made for the Superintendent of Missions in Northern Saskatchewan. It was learned that Dr. Charles Endicott, if selected as one of the secretaries of the Maintenance and Extension Board, would reside in the West.

Rev. Dr. Peter Bryce, in presenting the report of the board, said that the Maintenance and Extension Board had given approximately $9,000,000 in the past three years for this extension work. This was in addition to all the money contributed for local work and for church building.

No action was taken on a memorial presented regarding a circular on modernism which had been sent to laymen of the church, in which friends of the fundamentalist movement had suggested withdrawal of subscriptions to the maintenance and extension fund of the church.

It was also decided that the United Church should co-operate to the fullest extent in the proposed pilgrimage of 1,500 ministers and members of the Free Churches in England to Canada in 1929.

FINANCIAL REPORT

Reporting to the General Council, the finance committee of the United Church of Canada, of which Sir Joseph Flavelle, Bart., is chairman, today presented its general balance sheet for the two years ending December 31, 1927. The statement of the treasurer, Rev. Robert Laird, D.D., said that the "average annual giving exceeded which the people now in the United Church of Canada gave annually prior to union." These figures are the offerings made to missions, education, social, benevolent and benevolent enterprises of the United Church through the maintenance and extension fund.

The committee reported that the United Church of Canada reserve fund, in which all legacies devised to the church or to the maintenance and extension fund, and not designated for any particular fund or object, shall be placed. Legacies to the amount of $24,936 were placed in this fund.

The committee's report called attention to the adoption of a guaranteed annuity plan, by which the United Church may, on behalf of any of its funds, receive benefactions and pay interest on the same during the lifetime of the donor, provided that on the donor's death the money becomes the church's property.

CHURCH PENSIONS

The constitution of the new pension fund of the United Church of Canada, which has been in preparation for the past three years, was presented to the General Council today. The object of the fund, as set out in the constitution, is "to make provision for aged or disabled ministers, widows, and children of deceased ministers."

As provided in the basis of union and by authority of the General Council, the new pension fund is an

ROYALS AND MAINLANDERS CLASH TODAY

Second Game for Provincial Softball Championship Will Be Played at Athletic Park Today

LOCAL TEAM IS OUT FOR REVENGE

Victoria's baseball fans will have an opportunity of witnessing the second game of the Arrow Transfer-McMaster Horton Royals series for the provincial softball championship this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Royal Athletic Park. This is the first time in the history of softball that a provincial series has been played and Victoria is anxious to annex the honors.

Although the Royals lost the initial game in Vancouver on Labor Day by a 11-7 count, due to a home run in the final inning with the bases full, they will be out this afternoon with their strongest team in order to uphold the local colors.

Frank Partington, captain and star twirler of the local squad, will be on the hill, while behind the bat will be young Tommy Drysdale. Partington is one of the main cogs in the local's machinery, and it was chiefly due to his chugging that his team annexed the city laurels. The infield for the Royals will be as follows: Roy Darius, first base; Barney Barnwell, second base; Clyde Nicol at short, and Claude Hamer holding down the hot corner. The outer garden is comprised of the following: Laurie Greenwood, centre field; Frank McQueen, right field, and N. Metzger in left field. S. Backus, W. Coates and T. Harrison will be on deck as spare material.

The genial Bob Whyte will officiate as umpire-in-chief, while assisting him on the bases will be Ernie Stock.

If the locals win this afternoon's game a third game to decide the titleholders will be played at 5:30 o'clock, with Ernie Stock calling the balls and strikes and Bob Whyte looking after the bags.

FIFTEEN TO START IN TURF CLASSIC

DONCASTER, Eng., Sept. 7.—Fifteen three-year-olds, the best of the English turf, are probable starters in the St. Leger Stakes, the fifth and last of the season's classic for three-year-olds.

The race will be run over the historic course of 1 mile 6 furlongs and 12 yards, on September 12, and will be worth $80,000 or more.

Lord Derby's Fairway, favorite for the Derby, who failed miserably in the Blue Ribbons, has been made favorite for the St. Leger. He has shown some good performances since the Derby was decided.

The final acceptances are: Sir Abe Bailey's Tourist, R. H. Aga Khan's Tourist, J. Courtauld's Tourist, R. H. Aga Khan's Tourist, Sir Cunliffe Owen's Tourist, Lord Londale's Tourist, T. Davidson's Tourist, R. H. Aga Khan's Tourist, Sir Cunliffe Owen's Tourist, Lord Londale's Tourist, T. Davidson's Tourist, R. H. VISITING SAILORS WILL PLAY R.C.N.

The Royal Canadian Navy football team will clash with a picked team from H.M.S. Despatch at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at Work Point Barracks in an exhibition match. The locals were the victors in a strong lineup, and the local sailors will have to play first-class soccer to come through with a victory. Last Saturday the visitors held the Victoria City eleven to a 1-1 draw.

WATER POLO TEAMS FAIL TO BREAK TIE IN SECOND ATTEMPT

Victoria Amateur Swimming Club and H.M.S. Despatch's water polo team battled to a three-all score at the Crystal Garden pool last night for the second successive time. The teams were on the right end of a 2-1 score at half-time, but a last-minute spurt by visitors enabled them to withdraw from the fray with the score tied.

In addition, the teams presented for the first time a tug-of-war competition in the pool. As in the water polo game, the honors were divided. Visitors won the first pull and the sailors the second.

GIRL SPECTATOR IS BARRED FROM GAME BY LEAGUE

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The unprecedented action of the Bedford Football Association in banning a girl spectator from all the present season's matches added yet another incident to this year's plentiful crop of soccer stories.

It appears that last Good Friday, two sisters, Gwen and Dora Monk, attended the Bedford League match between Arlesey and Kempston, at which a dispute occurred between some of the players. Gwen is reported to have shouted, "Play the game." She was insulted by one of the players, who is also alleged to have punched her face.

Dora, after the match, waited for the player who had attacked Gwen and struck him with a horsewhip across the face.

Dora now has been warned that she will not be admitted to the association's matches. This is probably the first time in England that a woman has been barred from a football match.

"THE RING"

By MAY WYNNE (Author of "The Golden Hour," "If Riches Increase," "Other Men's Shoes," Etc.)

CHAPTER X

Tearing back the curtain, Maisie discovered the second door by which her pursuers had entered. Too late! Someone was in the act of locking it too.

A prisoner. But why? She had parted with the ring. That mysterious ring with which all her troubles had begun and ended. Why had these men troubled to lock her in? Were they afraid one would give information to the police? The poor girl's head ached woefully. She went to the window and threw it open. The fog had lifted but it was still cold; she could see the stars shining overhead.

Leaning out, she wondered whether it would be possible to climb down. There were thick creepers, both ivy and wisteria, reaching to the ground.

She looked back into the room. That heavy Eastern scaple made her feel sick and stupid. But she could not have lain down in that bed and slept!

She did not wait for the return of those two sinister figures of doom. Gripping the sill of the window, she climbed up on it. The wood was saturated with moisture, the ivy was drenched. It had been a dripping fog. Maisie was strong of muscle, and a born athlete. She was her brother's comrade, pride in cricket and every sport. He had climbed after as many birds' nests as the most adventurous of schoolboys.

Now she was climbing for a good deal more than birds' nests. She did not quite understand the meaning of that new development which had brought grim suspicion on the heels of exultant victory, but she dreaded lest she might be a victim in some plot within a plot. It would be better to escape at once.

It was not till she swung there, poised on a thick branch of the wisteria, that she remembered her deshabille. She had left coat, skirt and hat in Mrs. Bamber's room. It would be quite lapsakik for her to return home in this befouled dressing-gown!

wards her own, and saw Po Chung's yellow fingers lightly caress her wrist.

Startled, she looked into those mocking eyes which showed the same silent threat as ever. The eyes held—directed—guided her gaze. She looked down.

The Chinaman's right hand was hidden in the pocket of a brown overcoat, but as Maisie looked she noticed that there was a hole in the bottom of this pocket through which the nose of a small revolver was thrust, directed towards her heart.

If she dared to escape or to cry out for help she would be shot dead.

DOMINION For the fans who love thrilling adventure, intrigue and stirring mystery, "Huntingtower," showing for the last time today at the Dominion Theatre, John Buchan's famous novel, with Sir Harry Lauder in the title role, will more than suffice. The story of the retired grocer who stumbles on a house of mystery and incidentally with the aid of some schoolboys succeeds in clearing up the mystery of Huntingtower, forms a plot that will hold the spectator enthralled until the last scene is shown. "Huntingtower" marks Sir Harry Lauder's debut into the film industry, and certainly he is a great success.

now at the Playhouse Theatre, was that in connection with an ocean liner at its dock. To show it leaving the dock with the camera on it was moved while the boat reand Alice Joyce are co-starred.

CAPITOL The command to "Play

FRASER EROSION CALLS FOR ACTION

Conference Is Held Between Dominion and Provincial Authorities on Question

Mr. C. C. Worsfold, district engineer under the Dominion Department of Public Works, was in the city yesterday conferring with the provincial department with respect to some undertakings in which the two governments are to some extent interested.

One of them is the matter of the Agassiz wing dam which is proposed below the Maria Slough and about one mile and a half above the landing of the ferry which plies between Agassiz and Rosedale. The dam will not only afford protection to the banks of the river, but is also a safeguard for the roads that run along the side of the course.

This is especially true of the highway running through Agassiz, and on to the Hot Springs.

The matter has been taken up with Reeve John McRae, and the municipality is prepared to bear one-third of the cost. The remainder of the cost will be, it is anticipated, assumed by the two governments.

Another matter that received attention at the hands of the Government representatives was that of the damage at Nicomen Island.
This has long been a matter of adjustment between the two governments. At the recent high water there was considerable damage done.

CARIBOO ROAD NEARS FINISH

Condition, However, Will Be Rough
For Some Time, Engineers
Warn Public

The Cariboo Road is nearing completion as far as the rough grading of it is concerned. By another week it is expected that it will be completed from Spence's Bridge to Lytton, which has been the last section to be constructed.

With the completion of the highway, as indicated, the Public Works Department announces that it is not advising the use of it for general travel. This will not be advisable until next Spring sometime, when the surfacing of the road will be carried out.

As soon as the completion of the road is provided with retaining walls, and is in good shape for surfacing, it, however, is rough in places, and is not recommended as an avenue of travel for tourists especially.

CRIMINALS GET LOW WAGE SCALE

GRAND FALLS, N.B., Sept. 7.—
For $25 apiece, three men from the State of Maine agreed to blow up the homes of the two New Brunswick provincial policemen with dynamite, according to an alleged confession made to E. C. Morgan, assistant commissioner of provincial police, by Kennedy O'Neill, eighteen-year-old Auburn (Maine) youth, who was arrested Tuesday at Edmundston in connection with the wrecking of the homes of Officers E. A. Auble and B. G. Peters, early this morning.

Further developments in the case were revealed here last night by Mr. Morgan.

According to the assistant commissioner, O'Neill's confession told of three Maine men, one from Portland, one from Milo, and the third from Derby, who were hired by another party to blow up the officers' houses. This man, according to the confession, was himself hired by "higher-ups," said to be New Brunswick men, prominent in the illicit traffic and themselves connected with a powerful and wealthy rum syndicate made up of New York, Quebec and New Brunswick bootleggers.

These three men, whose names
Mr. Morgan would not divulge, were offered $25 each if the dynamite exploded, and $10 each if the blasts failed to go off.

Cool Duties to Come Before Tariff Board

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—Iron, steel, cement and coal will be subjects of inquiry at the public sittings of the tariff board, scheduled to begin here September 25. Hearings will continue until October 3.

An application by the British Columbia Miners Association of Per-nie, and Crows Nest Pass Coal Company of Fernie, will be heard for the removal of customs duty on bituminous coal and for the abolition of certain industrial drawbacks.

Opium Smuggling Situation Bad in Hong Kong Colony

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—In a memorandum to the League Assembly, the British Government says that last October the Governor of Hong Kong reported a serious situation which, in his opinion, could only be brought under control by a change in Government policy.

"The colony," says the Governor,
"is inundated with smuggled opium,
which can be bought at a fraction of the price of Government opium, and the result is a serious situation which, in his opinion, could only be brought under control by a change in Government policy."

Wang Ching Chi, Chinese delegate to the Assembly, announced he had received instructions to accept the British proposal for an opium inquiry in the Far East. He said that two conditions were attached, the first being that the investigation should include manufacturing as well as growing countries; and second, that a Chinese should be a member of the commission.

Miners Satisfied

PRINCE ALBERT, Sept. 7.—The forty British miners who arrived in this district here, with one exception, found work satisfactory to them at "going" wages. The one man who returned to Saskatoon was offered several jobs but refused all.
The men who remained seemed anxious to find Winter work and settle in this country. At the present time there is a shortage of help here. Farmers are well pleased with the miners, and the miners seem pleased with the treatment they have received.

JASPER PARK GOLF TOURNEY STARTS TODAY

Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta Will Tee Off First Ball After Unveiling Tablet

CANADIAN CITIES WELL REPRESENTED

JASPER NATIONAL PARK, Alta., Sept. 7.—His Honor William Egbert, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, will set in motion the third annual golf tournament of the Jasper Park Lodge course tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, when he drives off the first ball. Already eighty-two entries have been officially filed with the secretary, and this number will be added to consider the seventy Monday next, when the contest for the famous Totem Pole Trophy begins. Tomorrow's game will be matched against par. Before the ball is driven tomorrow, the Lieutenant-Governor will unveil a tablet which has been placed in the new clubhouse in memory of the late Earl Haig, commander-in-chief of the British forces in the Great War, and a past president of the world famous St. Andrews Golf Club. During his visit to Canada in 1925, Earl Haig officially opened the Jasper Park Lodge course. The facts of this event are engraved on the tablet.

Almost every city of importance from Montreal to Victoria is represented in the tournament, the committee of which is probably one of the finest ever assembled. The gentlemen serving on the committee are A. J. Sills, assistant to the operating vice-president of the Canadian National Railways, "Chairman" Major W. D. This course, by experts to be among the finest in the world, calls for a shot for every yard in the bag. The length is 6,455 yards, and par, which has yet to be equaled by an amateur, is 72.

The following players have filed their entries with the secretary, C. L. Weidner, at 1 o'clock today: Vancouver—Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Powell, W. H. Billings, P. A. Burgess, Mrs. F. A. Boxer Loses Trunks Early in Bout, But Comes Back to Win

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—An accident unique in the history of this fighting ring happened last night when George Hoffman, former amateur heavyweight champion, lost his trunks in the second round of his bout with Jack Desmos, from Canada. The referee was paralyzed with astonishment. Seconds hurried up with two bathtubs and several towels, smothering Hoffman with coverings as he made up for the indignity. But Hoffman was so mad after acquiring another pair of trunks that he waded in and kayaked the Canadian in the first minute of the fourth.

Thousands Greet Western Bearers of Maple Leaf at 1928 Olympics in Amsterdam

PERCY WILLIAMS
Vancouver, Canada's Olympic sprint sensation, who was the centre of interest at yesterday's civic reception at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—Western bearers of the Maple Leaf colors at the 1928 Olympics in Amsterdam, returned to Winnipeg today and were given one of the most enthusiastic receptions ever accorded a sportsman. A large crowd gathered at the railway station to greet the boys; hundreds attended a civic luncheon, and in the afternoon, while 6,000 persons gathered at Polo Park attending the Fall meet of the Winnipeg Jockey Club, added their voices to the welcome.

Percy Williams, Canada's Olympic running star, who was the centre of interest, but the reception extended to the others, Dorval Pilling, Stan Glover, Jimmy Ball and Grant Little. Winnipeg was none the less enthusiastically received.

At the station, Williams, who is accompanied by his mother, was engulfed in a sea of outstretched hands as hundreds of people struggled for a chance to congratulate him.

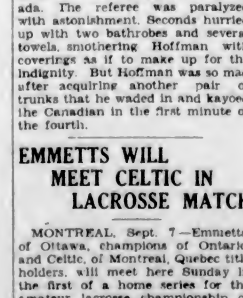

WORSE THAN RUNNING
"This is worse than running," exclaimed the Vancouver star breathlessly, as he struggled through the welcoming throngs. Following the reception at the station, where Premier John Bracken, Mayor MacLean and other prominent in civic life were present, as well as representatives of various sporting organizations, the Western boys were taken to Assiniboine Park, where they were guests of the city at luncheon. Each received a presentation. A bronze statue, showing a runner at the mark, was presented to Percy at the Polo Park, where Mrs. Williams decorated the winner of the feature race; the lad from the Coast was given a silver cup, and a trophy inscribed as a commemoration of his brilliant feat at Amsterdam, and his welcome to Winnipeg.

Harry Blitham Will Meet Bass on Monday

Philadelphia Will Witness Great Battle When Home-Town Boys Climb Over Rope—Stribling Signed for Three Fights

By TOMMY LOUGHAN

Light-Heavyweight Champion of the World (Copyright, 1928, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

Philadelphia will stage its biggest fight since the first Dempsey-Tunney bout on Monday. Biggest, at least, in point of attendance. When Harry Blitham and Benny Bass climb the ropes for the ten-round battle it is expected a $100,000 crowd will be on hand. The fight is for the featherweight championship of the world until he lost a decision to Tony Canzoneri, after breaking his collarbone in one of the earlier rounds.

Blitham is one of the most sensational figures in the ring today. He has been boxing as a professional for only two years. He got $70 for his first bout and won a guarantee of $25,000 for this one. A question if a more amazing record has ever been made.

This bout is a "natural" in every sense of the word. Both boys are Philadelphians. Blitham is a southpaw. Benny is much more experienced, but lost not only to Canzoneri, but to Nebo, while the younger boy beat them both. Their managers have been rivals for years, and the trainers shifted over to the rival camps. All Philadelphia is talking about the battle. The winner is certain to take his place as the real contender for the featherweight championship.

MARION WILSON ONLY WESTERNER

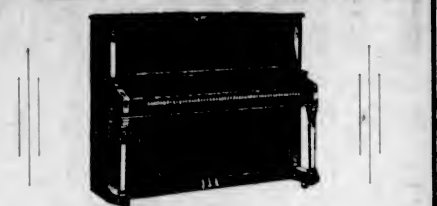

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—Feminine golf stars from many clubs in Canada and the United States are entered in the Canadian ladies' open championship, which begins at the Beaconsfield Club, Montreal, on Monday. Of the 108 players entered the thirty-two making the lowest gross scores in the qualifying round on Monday will be eligible to play for the title and the Duchess of Connaught Cup. Miss Helen Payson, of Portland, Maine, winner of the title last year, will be the first to tee off. She is paired with one of her closest rivals last year, Miss Doris Virtue, the Whitlock star.

Miss Marion Wilson, of Victoria, B.C., the only Westerner entry, date, is paired with Miss Edith Quier, of Reading, Pa., in the qualifying round.

DENIES REPORT OF IRREGULARITIES

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—When questioned regarding alleged irregularities in the second game of the Connaught Cup soccer finals at the Beaconsfield Club, Montreal, Royals and the Montreal Canadian Nationals, J. H. Payne president of the latter club, indignantly denied the reported charges, stating that he welcomed a probe, as had been suggested at the recent annual meeting of the Dominion Football Association, as he had nothing to hide.

GEORGE MICHEL GETS HIS SHARE OF PRIZE MONEY

French Baker Is One of Fourteen Swimmers to Receive $2,500 for Efforts in Marathon

DIVISION OF PURSE CAUSES INDIGNATION

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—Accepting a gratuity of $2,500 from the Canadian National Exhibition before the grandstand this afternoon, Georges Michel, corpulent Paris baker, who swam farthest and stayed in the water longest in Wednesday's marathon swim, thanked the public for the reception they had given him while he was swimming and their support since.

He hoped, he said, that the mistake made by the committee would be rectified. This was in reference to the fact that he received no more than thirteen other swimmers, some of whom did not go nearly so well as he. Most of the fourteen natators awarded the sum of $2,500 were present to receive the money.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—Indignant at the division of the prize money in the Wrigley marathon swim among the fourteen contenders who put up the best showing, leading swimmers in the race are threatening to strike and quit the swimming game for good.

Georges Michel of France, Ernest Vierkötter of Germany and Byron Summers of Los Angeles, Cal., are among the leaders in the revolt. Summers, however, states that practically all the United States swimmers are in sympathy.

Minister of Labor Rules Professional Player Is Workman

LONDON, Sept. 7.—A professional football player is a workman and not an artist, the Minister of Labor has ruled in prohibiting the landing of Grete Jensen, a Danish player recently engaged by Cardiff City. Under the alien regulations, apart from certain specialized trades, such as waiters and hairdressers, foreign workers are not admissible, the ministry points out. Foreign artists, on the other hand, are admissible.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Stocks

response to the moderate increase in brokers' loans during the week ended September 5. The fact that collateral borrowing expended only $4,000,000 in a period of tremendous activity and advances in the main body of stocks was interpreted to indicate that the market was keeping itself in sound position

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

During the war, a certain infantry regiment in France had sent out to them a perfect front of a C.O. The Colonel was Pukha martinet and soon had the battalion in a state of hopping funk. One day while the C.O. was doing a tour of the front, line trenches he was sniped at four times, and, in a rage, he reported his fact to his adjutant, saying that he enemy sharpshooter must be located and dispatched. The battalion sarkman set out to stalk the Boche and at length found him and got in with his second shot. As he ejected the cartridge-case the marksmen was heard to mutter, "There you are, you blighter. Take that for missing our colonel."
